

EMPLOYMENT APPEALS TRIBUNAL

APPEAL OF:

CASE NO.

Employer

PW52/2006

against the decision of the Rights Commissioner R-039933-PW-05/JC
In the case of

Employee under

PAYMENT OF WAGES ACT, 1991

I certify that the Tribunal
(Division of Tribunal)

Chairman: Mr. K. Kilrane
Members Mr. B. O'Carroll
Mr. J. LeCumbre

heard this appeal at Longford on 15 March 2007

Representation:

Appellant:

XXXX

Respondent:

No appearance or representation

This case came before the Tribunal as a result of an appeal by an employer (the appellant) against a decision of the Rights Commissioner under the Payment of Wages Act, 1991, R-039933-PW-05/JC, in the case of Employee (the respondent).

Determination

The Tribunal finds that, as the decision of the Rights Commissioner names XXXX as the employer, the appellant does not have locus standii to bring the appeal. It follows that the appeal under the Payment of Wages Act, 1991 is not properly before the Tribunal and there is no jurisdiction to hear the appeal. Accordingly the decision of the Rights Commissioner under that Act is upheld.
